

SMET Related Citations from Other Journals

For the benefit of the readers, we are including a list of articles relating to Science, Mathematics, Engineering, and Technology (SMET) Education published in other journals. We hope this feature will prove useful to you.

Mathematics

Journal for Research in Mathematics Education

May 2001, Volume 32, Number 3

“From Preservice Mathematics Teacher Education to Beginning Teaching: A Study in Recon-textualizing” - Paula Ensor

“Holistic Perspectives on Instructional Design—A Review of Symbolizing and Communicating in Mathematics Classrooms: Perspectives on Disclosure, Tools, and Instructional Design” - Paul Cobb, Erna Yackel, and Kay McClain (Eds.). Lawrence Erlbaum

Engineering

Journal of Professional Issues in Engineering Education and Practice

July 2001, Volume 127, Issue 3

“Sustainability and Critical Thinking in Civil Engineering Curriculum” - Thomas J. Siller

“Fundamentals of Ethics for Scientists and Engineers” - Ronald E. Bucknam, P.E.

”Multiple Claims in Construction Law: Educational Case Study” - Amarjit Singh and Ivan Sakamoto

IEE Transactions on Education

November 2000, Volume 43, Number 4

“Reducing the Information Overload: A Method on Helping Students Research Engineering Topics Using the Internet” - R. H. Rockland

“Student Group Working Across Universities: A Case Study in Software Engineering “ - O. P. Brereton, S. Lees, R. Bedson, C. Boldyreff, S. Drummond, P. J. Layzell, L. A. Macaulay, and R. Young

Technology

Journal of Interactive Media in Education

July 2001

“Can Quality Graduate Software Engineering Courses Really Be Delivered Asynchronously On-line? “ - Stephen Edwards